

SOCIETY OF BIBLICAL LITERATURE ICI REPORT FOR JUNE 2017

(a) THE SBL INTERNATIONAL MEETING 2017, BERLIN

The next SBL International Meeting will take place in Berlin, Germany, from 7-11 August 2017. The Call for Papers has closed already. See this link: <https://www.sbl-site.org/meetings/Internationalmeeting.aspx>

A forum meeting of ICI will take place at the Berlin conference. See the details of the meeting below. It would be great to see you there!

Session 8-8

Fostering Biblical Scholarship...Worldwide: The Contribution of the International Cooperation Initiative

8/08/2017 from 9:00 AM to 10:30 AM

Room: Hörsaal 2014A - Hauptgebäude; Unter den Linden 6 (UL 6)

The International Cooperation Initiative (ICI) is a coordinating space for various attempts to facilitate contact between biblical scholarship in traditional environments such as Europe and North America and non-traditional environments such as the Global South and East. The ICI, therefore, plays an important role in the internationalization of biblical scholarship and in the widening of access to biblical scholarship in all parts of the world. Join us to hear what SBL offers to biblical scholarship worldwide through ICI, and come and voice your opinion in the open discussion time.

Louis Jonker, Universiteit van Stellenbosch - University of Stellenbosch, Introduction

Diana Edelman, University of Oslo, Panelist

Erhard Gerstenberger, Philipps-Universität Marburg, Panelist

Gerald West, University of KwaZulu-Natal, Panelist

(c) PUBLICATION IN ANCIENT NEAR EAST MONOGRAPHS (ANEM) / MONOGRAFÍAS SOBRE EL ANTIGUO CERCAÑO ORIENTE (MACO)

ANEM/MACO is a series that was established by the SBL at the request of the International Cooperation Initiative (ICI), and which is co-edited by Alan Lenzi and Juan Tebes. The series publishes volumes on the Ancient Near East (including ancient Israel) electronically and makes them freely available for download. (Paperback and hardback versions of the volumes are available too, for a reasonable price.) Any work published in ANEM/MACO is freely available in electronic version to anyone in perpetuity. To view the volumes published in the series, please go to http://www.sbl-site.org/publications/Books ANEmonographs.aspx

The latest volumes in ANEM/MACO is:

Exploring Zechariah, Volume 1&2: The Development of Zechariah and Its Role within the Twelve

By Mark J. Boda

These volumes showcases a series of studies on the development of Zechariah as a book and its role within the development and rhetoric of the Book of the Twelve. It features the following: (i) Examination of the role that the final section of the Book of the Twelve played in drawing the corpus together into its final form; (ii) Articles drawn from a variety of journals; (iii) Ten essays that represent advances into Book of the Twelve research.

(d) PUBLICATION IN INTERNATIONAL VOICES IN BIBLICAL STUDIES (IVBS)

IVBS is a series that was established by the SBL at the request of the International Cooperation Initiative (ICI), and which is co-edited by Monica Melanchthon and Jione Havea. IVBS encourages in particular submissions from scholars in the present seven international regions for which it has editorial boards: Africa, Central and Eastern Europe, Latin America, Middle East-South Asia, Northeast Asia, Pacific, and Southeast Asia. Interregional collaborations are also welcome. IVBS publishes works in English and in any other language for which its editors can find qualified peer reviewers. Any work published in IVBS is freely available to anyone in perpetuity. The series publishes work generally in the area of reception history and criticism. The scope is not limited to any particular biblical text or historical timeframe. The works will mainly be published in English and, wherever possible, also in primary languages of authors. For more information please go to <http://ivbs.sbl-site.org/home.aspx>. If you would consider publishing your work in this series, feel free to contact one of the two general editors, Monica Melanchthon or Jione Havea.

The latest volume in IVBS is:

Reading Ruth in Asia

Edited by Jione Havea and Peter Lau

This monograph contains readings of texts and themes from the Book of Ruth by scholars from Asia. There is a strong mix of postcolonial and contextual flavors in the essays, which together give readers a taste of Biblical Criticism in Asia. Special attention is given to the literary, cultural, gender and minoritized subjects in the Book of Ruth.

(e) PUBLICATIONS: ONLINE BOOKS – NEW BOOKS ADDED

(For the full list, please go to http://www.sbl-site.org/publications/Books_ICIbooks.aspx)

The Recovery of the Ancient Hebrew Language: The Lexicographical Writings of D. Winton Thomas

Day, John. The Recovery of the Ancient Hebrew Language: The Lexicographical Writings of D. Winton Thomas. Hebrew Bible Monograph 20. Sheffield: Sheffield Phoenix Press, 2013.

David Winton Thomas (1901–1970) was Regius Professor of Hebrew in the University of Cambridge (1938–1968) and one of the most distinguished British lexicographers of the Hebrew language. His special contribution was the identification of words in Biblical Hebrew that had lain undetected since ancient times, sometimes because they were homonyms of other, better-known words. He called his project ‘The Recovery of the Ancient Hebrew Language’, the title of his inaugural lecture at Cambridge in 1939, as well as of the present book.

Psalms 1-2: A Gateway to the Psalter

Cole, Robert L. Psalms 1-2: A Gateway to the Psalter. Hebrew Bible Monograph 37. Sheffield: Sheffield Phoenix Press, 2013.

This cohesive and coherent introductory pair of psalms sets a pattern at the beginning for reading all those that follow. Indeed, a thorough understanding of the first two psalms and their integrated message is a prerequisite for understanding the purpose of the entire book.

John, Jesus, and History, Volume 3: Glimpses of Jesus through the Johannine Lens

Anderson, Paul N., Felix Just, S.J., and Tom Thatcher, eds. John, Jesus, and History, Volume 3: Glimpses of Jesus through the Johannine Lens. Early Christianity and Its Literature 18. Atlanta: SBL Press, 2016.

Since it began in 2002, the John, Jesus, and History Project has assessed critically the modern disparaging of John's historicity and has found this bias wanting. In this third volume, an international group of experts demonstrate over two dozen ways in which John contributes to an enhanced historical understanding of Jesus and his ministry.

An Introduction to Empire in the New Testament

Winn, Adam. An Introduction to Empire in the New Testament. Resources for Biblical Study 84. Atlanta: SBL Press, 2016.

The purpose of the present volume is to introduce students and non-specialists to the growing subfield of New Testament studies known as empire studies. Contributors seek to make readers aware of the significant work that has already been produced, while also pointing them to new ways in which this field is moving forward. Contributions explore the strategies employed by early Christians to respond to the Roman empire.

Transgender, Intersex and Biblical Interpretation

Hornsby, Teresa J., and Deryn Guest. Transgender, Intersex and Biblical Interpretation. Semeia Studies 83. Atlanta: SBL Press, 2016.

In this volume Hornsby and Guest introduce readers to terms for the various identities of trans people and how the Bible can be an affirmation of those deemed sexually other by communities. This book offers readings of well known (e.g., Gen 1; Revelation) and not so well known (2 Sam 6; Jer 38) narratives to illustrate that the Bible has been translated and interpreted with a bias that makes heterosexuality and a two sex, two gender system natural, and thus divinely ordained. The authors present examples that show gender was never a binary, and in the Bible gender and sex are always dynamic categories that do, and must, transition.

(f) ICI TEACHING COLLABORATION PROGRAM

In order to facilitate the exchange of scholars and institutions in biblical studies across the globe, a teaching collaboration program is run by the ICI. The facility consists of lists of scholars and institutions interested in exchanges that are made available on the SBL website. See: <http://sbl-site.org/educational/ICITeaching.aspx>. If you or your institution is interested in such collaboration, please visit the site and enroll yourself in these lists. For more information, contact Jackie du Toit.

(g) JOURNAL OF BIBLICAL LITERATURE (JBL) ARCHIVE

Take note that an archive with JBL articles from volume 122.1 of 2003 through volume 130.1 of 2011 is available online to people accessing the SBL website from any ICI country. See http://www.sbl-site.org/publications/ICI_JBLarchive.aspx. All articles in those volumes can be downloaded for free!

(h) THE SBL WEBSITE

The SBL website (on the SBL Press page) has a facility where one can search the full text of all SBL books! For this very convenient tool, see:

<http://sbl-site.org/publications/default.aspx>

(i) EVENTS

The SBL maintains a significant list of events taking place anywhere in the globe. For the full list please go to <http://www.sbl-site.org/meetings/events.aspx>

A selection of events is listed below—mainly those taking place in ICI regions. Please provide information on conferences in your region, including calls for papers, to Sharon Johnson at sharon.johnson@sbl-site.org.

July 15, 2017Call for Papers: The Dead Sea Scrolls Seventy Years Later. Manuscripts, Traditions, Interpretations, and Their Biblical Context

John Paul II Catholic University of Lublin, Poland

The contributions may deal with any topic related to the Dead Sea scrolls, be it archeological, paleographic, literary, historical, social, biblical, or religious—again, in their widest understandings. The preferred approach is to present a particular theme from the perspective of the development of the related scholarly research, beginning with the first publications of a Qumran manuscript, or first/early interpretations concerning a particular topic related to Qumran research. Any other analysis or approach is also acceptable.

For more information:

See <http://ocs.academicon.pl/index.php/test/DSS2017>

July 18-22, 2017

Philosophical Investigation of the Hebrew Scriptures, Talmud and Midrash

This conference will seek to elucidate the classical Jewish theology of torah from heaven in light of recent challenges. We are especially interested in papers that seek a better understanding of the views presented in the Hebrew Bible, Talmud and Midrash, according to which the torah is to be seen as entering the world through, or being given shape by, God's speech to Moses and Israel at Mt. Sinai.

August 7, 2017

Conference on Apocalyptic Literature and Mysticism: Investigating a Turn in Recent Apocalyptic Research

Yale Divinity School and the Faculty of Theology and Religion at the University of the Free State in Bloemfontein, South Africa, will be hosting a conference on this theme. The conference focuses on the relationship between apocalyptic literature and Merkavah Mysticism/mystical movements/texts. The conference will take place on at the University of the Free State. Speakers include John Collins, Adela Collins, Greg Sterling, Jörg Frey and Pieter de Villiers.

Biblical Interpretation for Caribbean Renewal

Jamaica Theological Seminary will host an interdisciplinary theology conference on its campus 14-16 West Avenue, Constant Spring, Kingston 8, Jamaica W.I. The conference is co-sponsored with the Caribbean Graduate School of Theology and the United Theological College of the West Indies.

Both Caribbean residents and others with an interest in the Caribbean are invited to propose papers on any aspect of the theme of "Biblical Interpretation for Caribbean Renewal." We especially encourage papers that:

- propose priorities for biblical interpretation in the Caribbean
- address current practices of biblical interpretation in the Caribbean
- engage particular biblical texts in light of Caribbean realities

The due date for receiving proposals is July 15, 2017.

Further information on submitting proposals may be found in the Call for Papers.

For more information please visit the conference page on the website of the Jamaica Theological Seminary.

October 25-26, 2017

The Dead Sea Scrolls Seventy Years Later. Manuscripts, Traditions, Interpretations, and Their Biblical Context

John Paul II Catholic University of Lublin, Poland.

The huge impact of the scrolls on the field of biblical studies (in its most expansive sense!) makes it imperative that we undertake today an effort to examine and review the large field of Dead Sea Scrolls studies. The seventieth anniversary of the first discoveries seems an opportune time. The conference creates a platform for scholarly exchange concerning the present state of professional research in the field of Qumran studies.

There are links to numerous educational resources on the SBL website. The following are freely available: (i) Resources on Teaching the Bible; (ii) Freely downloadable Hebrew, Greek and Transliteration fonts (amongst others); (iii) Resources on Bible translations and commentaries; and (iv) Research tool resources.

See <http://sbl-site.org/educational/default.aspx>

Also remember to check the newly-developed Bible Odyssey online portal. See www.bibleodyssey.org. This portal offers wonderful educational resources, but also resources for broader popular audiences. Use this site to popularize our academic studies in faith communities!

Any topics you would like to see Bible Odyssey address? Just send a message to: bow@sbl-site.org

(k) PLEASE PASS ON THE INFORMATION

Please share this newsletter with your colleagues and students and become a liaison for your institution and SBL. (Please contact our liaison officer, Jackie du Toit, if you would like to assist as contact person in your region.) Your advocacy for ICI strengthens biblical studies as a discipline and builds relationships in the global community. Thank you to those who have done so in the past—we also receive letters from people who received the newsletter from someone else.

With best wishes for your Bible scholarship!
